DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-10 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

Suzuki discloses the construction of a circuit arrangement for the dynamic control of piezotranslators with energy recovery by means of a single inductive intermediate store which is arranged in series with the piezotranslators as well as by clocked switches, wherein for achieving a predetermined linear voltage characteristic at the piezotranslator, the secondary circuit is designed as a half-bridge consisting of the switches at whose output the inductive intermediate store is arranged in series with the piezotranslator.

Roberts teaches a circuit arrangement wherein:

the switches are formed as MOS transistors, with an external diode being connected in series with the clearance between contacts, and this series connection being bridged by a commutating diode which is oppositely poled to the diode; and a current sensor for generating a control voltage signal which is proportional to the output current of the final stage is arranged in the secondary circuit of the piezotranslator for controlling the arrangement.

Mamin et al. teaches the construction of a highly sensitive optical directional apparatus for the purpose of sensing the position of a movable member.

The prior art of record, taken alone or in combination, fails to teach the construction of a wired circuit arrangement for the dynamic control of piezotranslators / ceramic solid-state actuators with energy recovery by means of a single inductive intermediate store as disclosed by:

independent claim 1, having clocked switches connected to an upper or a lower supply voltage, and being externally controlled and operated at a high cycle or switching frequency to alternately connect the intermediate store and the upper or lower supply voltage; and independent claim 6, having a current control comprising a current sensor connected to the clocked switches and controlling the clocked switches of a half-bridge at a high clock or switching frequency, and wherein a position control is superimposed on the current control.

Dependent claims 2-5 and 7-10 are considered allowable by their respective dependence on allowed independent claims 1 and 6.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892.
